" My worry was to update Audience & Fans in real time about the progress on such or such part of my singer's life. The constraint was to update several internet pages to forward the right information to everyone. Now that become easier, I'm able to inform all of you with only 1 Click !"

Aly COOK always pays concern and attention to be closed to her Audience, delivering the right message to keep them up to date. The 21st century "Digital Age" allows Artists to do that easier than before; Aly COOK does not want to afford to miss such an opportunity.
